Black and Blue film screening at the University of Michigan Detroit Center

June 17, 2014

Learn about an inspiring moment in collegiate football history as the University of Michigan Detroit Center hosts a screening and discussion of the film "Black and Blue: The Story of Gerald Ford, Willis Ward and the 1934 Michigan-Georgia Tech Football Game."

This screening includes free admission, parking and complimentary refreshments.

Emmy nominated producer Brian Kruger and sports historian Greg Dooley will moderate a brief discussion following the film.

Locally produced by Stunt 3 Media, written by Buddy Morehouse and directed by Brian Kruger, "Black and Blue" follows the iconic story of two friends and one game during a time of civil injustice. Learn More

Detroiters Speak: Life at U-M

The University of Michigan Detroit Center is embarking on a new project, Detroiters Speak: Life at U-M, aimed at helping preserve the rich history of the university's partnership with Detroit.

If you or someone you know is:

- from the Detroit area,
- has completed a U-M degree program, and
- are at least 50 years of age,

we want to hear from you! As a storyteller, we'll be asking you to share memories about the University that you would like preserved. Stories will be archived online and shared with the community to raise awareness about the legacy of Detroiters at the University of Michigan.
